

I am writing in support of K-Love radio station which provides an invaluable non-commercial faith-based broadcast of music, news and events to this and surrounding communities. Importantly it also targets a younger audience who are otherwise becoming increasingly alienated to society by the venue of many of the other music stations and advertisements that 'target' them. I believe it therefore in the public interest to continue to allow K-Love to function in it's current capacity.